For Immediate Release:

OKC Renaissance Festival Coming to OKC Fairgrounds

Oklahoma City, OK – The OKC Renaissance and Scottish Festival is returning to the OKC Fairgrounds November 4 - 5, 2023. The event will take place outdoors, near Gate 2, on the northeast corner of the property. This event is the only renaissance festival in OKC that features jousts and jests, fairies and pirates, Vikings and vagabonds, minstrels and magicians, fire breathers and falconry, kings and queens, dancers, and daredevils, and always great family fun. Children 12 and under are free with each purchase of an advance adult ticket.

Meet Ragnar, the 10-foot tall, fully animatronic dragon. Attendees will hear his fearsome roar as his head, neck, tail, and wings move. The OKC Renaissance team has worked hard to create this magical creature to thrill young and old alike.

Additionally, the event will feature over 20 unique acts with many local favorites including Royals, Rogues and Renegades, Raptor's Keep, Heroic Knights of Old, OKC Armored Combat, Mother Nature, Black Oak Shillelagh, The Fairy King and Queen, and many more.

The OKC Renaissance and Scottish Festival will also play host to the OKC Highland Games and the International Highland Games Federation All American Championship first qualifying round of the 2024 season. Be part of the action and come out to support local events and great athletes who will represent the USA in the 2024 IHGF World Amateur Highland Games Championships in France, Switzerland, and Norway.
